Greetings from the five hundred and seventeen member institutions of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics. On their behalf, I extend to each of you a hearty and cordial welcome to the Champion Bowl game. This is one of the 14 national events conducted annually by N.A.I.A. for its member institutions.

Eastern Washington State and Fairmont State are the finalists of 300 of our football playing members. I am confident that it will be a clean, hard-fought game and that you will enjoy every minute of this contest. In the past 11 N.A.I.A. Champion Bowl games the average margin of victory has been eight points.

M. C. Cunningham
President, N.A.I.A.

The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics is, indeed proud to hold its 12th Annual Champion Bowl in the State of West Virginia. This is the first time the Champion Bowl game has been hosted by one of the teams playing.

Today's game matches Eastern Washington State and Fairmont State. These two teams have gone through undefeated seasons and were victorious in two hard fought semi-final games played on November 25. Eastern Washington defeated New Mexico Highlands, 28-14, and Fairmont State was a 21-7 winner over Northern Michigan.

N.A.I.A. is indebted to the many fine people of West Virginia who have worked to make this game successful. It is only through the efforts of these local supporters that N.A.I.A. can maintain a program of sponsoring championships in 14 sports.
